Atlantic Electropoice: Gentlemen—For the past five years my wife has been a sufferer from dyspepila. So completely did the disease make a wread of the pervens was those coof her former soit that the was almost en-destroyed, and the slightest noise would her into a nervous spasm, which would last ours Medical skill factor to bring any re-

Hef.

Through the recommendation of an ominent divine we were induced to try the Electropoise. After a persistent use of the instrument, the effect has been wonderful. Her nervous system has been reatored to its almost normal condition; her been realors; to be supported; she is rapidly digestion is wanderunity improved; she is rapidly guining in Besh; and, upon the whole, is making a rapid recovery, which speaks volumes for the wenderial carative powers of the Electropoise, as her case was considered hopeless. If any are skeptical on the subject, let them try the Electropoise, its wanderful powers will quickly dispoise, and its wonderful powers will quickly dis poi all doubt. Yours truly, W. M. PROPST.

Came to Life in the Morgue.

Beverly Brown, colored, 32 years old, was sent to the Hudson county jail on Sept. 28 for ten day to have his esnity tested by County Physician Converse. The latter decided that he was suffering with some brain trouble, but thought it might be only temperary, and, therefore, did not send him to an asylum.

About 11 o'clock yesterday morning the hall man noticed Brown lying on his cot apparently dead. The hands sud face were cold and there was no perceptible respiracondition as the hall man reported it. Dr. Converse, without making a critical exami-nation, went back to the office of the jail and said Brown was dead.

Brown was put into the blue box, in which bodies are taken to the Morgue, and the lid was screwed down. A cloth was thrown over the box and it was taken to the Morgue, more than half a mile away. The wagon was backed up to the door, and Louis Heck and his helper were lifting the box out of the wagon when an acquaintance of Heck's, who was passing sexed: "What bays you got there, Louis?"
"Only a dead olgger," answered Heck, carelessly.

"Is that so?" said his friend. "Wel!, I'd like to see a dead nigger; I never saw

050." "Come right in, then, and I'll show you

Heck and his helper carried the box into the dead house. The box was placed on a table, and Heck removed the cover and took off the lid.

"My God, he's alive!" exclaimed Heck starting back. A convulsive twitching of Brown'e eyelids had caused the exclamation. The body was lifted out of the box and some brandy forced between the lips. It was then hurried to the City Hospital. Dr. Shelby, the house surgeon, saw that he was either in a state of come, syncope, or trance; he could not tall which. He applied remedies, and in the course of an hour or two Brown had regained conscionences.

Last night Brown had recovered his waymth and his pulse was in a normal con-dition. The Doctor thinks he will recover. Brown stubbornly refuses to talk. A reporter epoke to him, but he merely rolled his eyes from one side to the other and then buried his face into his pillows .- N. Y. Sun.

A WEST VIBGINIA SNAKE STORY .- A CUrious snake story is reported from Drag Camp, on the Little Kanawhariver, W. Va. Two boys named Edward McCray and George Davers were out hunting, when they thought they had treed a coon, and pro ceeded to cut down a large lynn tree. stead of a coop, they found the tree filled with saskes and scake eggs of the viper species, except that they were brown in color and had yellow jaws. They were very vicious, and attacked the boys, who, although they succeeded in killing about fifty, were obliged to retreat. They came back to the camp and reported their find, when a party of lumbermen proceeded to the tree and killied over six hundred of the reptites. This is the second time recently that snakes in such lumbers have been discovered in that locality, the first time being three weeks since, when a man named Evan McCray was attacked by them and killed twenty before he succeeded in making his escape. The anakes are of a kind never before known in this section, and are said to attack every wild animal on sight.
